

Product Manager

General Summary:

The Product Manager works with the CTO, the direct users, and the other software developers to create software solutions in part, or whole, supporting the business operation while using various coding tools and methods to refine or modify technical operations, as well as creating integrations or add-ons to existing software systems. The role also includes creating entirely new solutions for business needs.

Principal duties and Responsibilities:

- General manager of product from idea through life cycle
- Held accountable for results
- Identifies and quantifies new market opportunities
- In collaboration with the marketing team, manages initial packaging of the product
- Collaborates with Operations to ensure success of the product with customers
- Guide the internal and external development resource through structured development processes
- Collaborate with the Implementation team for requirement definitions and project timelines
- Performs integration of newly developed software with existing systems supplied by third-party vendors
- Takes direct user feedback and understands and interprets the user's goals, needs, and desires for how the software should behave.
- Understands the "use-case" or "user story" related to the development, implementation, and modification of new and existing software solutions.
- User interface design and testing.
- Supports, evolves, and documents the software processes developed.
- Provides troubleshooting, problem analysis, debugging, and resolution of assigned system issues.

Knowledge, Skill, and Abilities Required:

- Bachelor's Degree or relevant experience
- 5+ years of experience in product management
- Experience in software development, preferred
- PACS or RIS experience desired
- SQL management and query knowledge

Working Conditions:

Working conditions are normal for an office setting. Position may require occasional weekend or evening work.

About LucidHealth

LucidHealth is a physician-owned and led radiology management company. We partner with radiology groups to provide the technology and resources to increase the strategic value of their practices nationwide. Our focus on quality outcomes supported by strong physician engagement provides a unique organizational structure serving as a solid foundation. Our belief is that all patients should have access to the highest quality of subspecialized imaging care, regardless of facility size or location. Our mission is to empower independent radiology groups to deliver world-class, subspecialized care to all patients within the communities they serve. For more information, please visit <http://www.lucidhealth.com>.

To apply, send resume to Kristin Gallucci at kgallucci@lucidhealth.com