

Senior Financial Analyst

General Summary:

The Senior Financial Analyst will support LucidHealth's Finance department with various budgeting, reporting, auditing, and forecasting projects. In addition, The Senior Financial Analyst will handle revenue models and report on Physician productivity.

Responsibilities:

- Reporting on results versus budget, including building new reporting schedules and starting new review processes with various senior leaders, completing board reporting packages
- Assisting with the budgeting and forecasting process
- Track and analyze all KPI metrics across the organization, keeping leadership informed of KPI's and their relationship with financial results
- Take ownership of sophisticated revenue models in support of month end close.
- Develop a strong working knowledge of healthcare services revenue cycle operations.
- Physician productivity tracking and reporting, across all practices

Additional Requirements:

- Bachelor's degree preferred in Finance or Accounting
- 2 to 3 years experience in financial analysis position with a middle-market or large organization.
- Experience in the development and application of financial, analytical, and budgetary models.
- Strong working knowledge of GAAP, financial statements, and financial analysis.
- Experience with computer modeling, management reporting systems and computer applications. Ability to create and manage databases and Excel based financial models.
- Strong interpersonal skills and ability to interpret results, understand implications and communicate to business users.

About LucidHealth

LucidHealth is a physician-owned and led radiology management company. We partner with radiology groups to provide the technology and resources to increase the strategic value of their practices nationwide. Our focus on quality outcomes supported by strong physician engagement provides a unique organizational structure serving as a solid foundation. Our belief is that all patients should have access to the highest quality of subspecialized imaging care, regardless of facility size or location. Our mission is to empower independent radiology groups to deliver world-class, subspecialized care to all patients within the communities they serve. For more information, please visit <http://www.lucidhealth.com>.

To apply contact Kristin Gallucci at kgallucci@lucidhealth.com